Homework 9: Color Segmentation

- Implement your own color segmentation function that allows you to specify the color space (HSV or CieLab) to perform the segmentation based only on the color channels.

- The program should be able to allow the user to specify the location (x,y) in the reference image to search for similarities.